| This loks really promising for home automation and this remote. A good platform to work with. |                    |                        |            |

- 3 chips ordered and recieved.

- Had issues getting the hello world to work, it's all in the wiki.
- Documented the process up until now.
